ALL NEIGHBORHOOD MEETING June 21, 7:00 pm - Signature Club

Agenda

The Future of Lansdowne
Impact of New Infill/Redevelopment Regulations
Environmental Issues
Beautification Ideas
Zandale Park Enhancement

Message from the President!

At the May 10 meeting of the Fayette County Neighborhood Council, past president Emma Tibbs conducted a survey of those in attendance on various issues concerning neighborhoods. (The Council is an alliance of some 100 neighborhood associations in the county.)

One question related to future expansion of the Urban Service Area to accommodate new development. 81% of those in attendance were against future expansion. 73% were aware that the LFUCG Council had recently passed new Infill/Redevelopment regulations that made changes in our present Zoning Ordinance and that some of these could have a future impact on the neighborhoods.

If the non expansion prevails, the Lansdowne area can expect continued and increasing pressure for changes that would increase densities and redevelopment. The relatively close proximity to the University, New Circle Road and downtown will make it a perfect target.

The Neighborhood Association has begun looking at these issues to consider actions that can be taken at this time to reduce impacts in the future. The need for full participation in these decisions is one of the reasons for the intensive membership drive that is being conducted by the Association. A united and strong neighborhood will have a voice in what will be undertaken.

On another matter, the Board has requested funding for the enhancement of the Zandale Park on Zandale Drive. This dedicated public space has been under-utilized for many years even though the government has been providing the mowing. The precise improvements will be decided after a discussion at the semi-annual meeting.

With the infusion of the next generation of those moving to Lansdowne, many of whom grew up in the neighborhood, the area has a bright future, if we remain alert.

- George Ely

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT: We've got MORE Music!

In our last issue we included the first of a two-part article profiling some folks who prove that Lansdowne's definitely got musical talent. In this issue we conclude our profile on Lansdowne musicians.

Today, Teresa Garbulinska is a patron of the arts. But when she and her husband arrived in Lexington in 1974, she was a concert pianist with critically acclaimed performances in both Eastern and Western Europe as well as in the United States. Born in Poland, Teresa graduated from the Conservatoire of Cracow in 1959 with high honors. There she was a student of Professor Henryk Sztompka, a piano virtuoso who was himself a student of Ignace Paderewski, arguably the most famous pianist of his time. It is a connection which brought her the title, "granddaughter of Paderewski," early in her career.

Teresa Garbulinska received early recognition as a performer. In 1956 she won first prize at the Polish National Mozart Competition in Katowice, Poland. Subsequently, she performed in many international music competitions and festivals, including an appearance at the Berkshire Music Festival in Tanglewood, MA, in 1964. Following one of her U.S. performances H. Klein of the New York Times observed, "...It is often said of a female pianist that 'she plays like a man.' Well, Miss Garbulinska plays like a woman—delicately, softly, yielding, sweetly and dreamily. Miss Garbulinska gave us Chopin the poet..." And a critic for the Los Angeles Times added, "...Miss Garbulinska made a good case for her Chopin...preludes from Op. 28 served as models for Chopinesque lyricism."

Teresa's career was both demanding and rewarding. To meet the exacting standards for technical performance imposed by the critics, her audiences, and by Teresa herself she required at least five to six hours of practice each day. However, some of that practice took place in Poland's Lancut Castle, which was converted after World War II into a museum with exhibits on the ground floor and a private residence above. Teresa was invited by the Ministry of Art to live in the private residence and use the three magnificent pianos in the castle for her practice. Visitors who happened on Teresa during practice or observed her travelling to and from the railroad station in one of the Castle's vintage horse drawn carriages dubbed her "Princess Teresa."

On coming to Lexington, Teresa retired from her career as a concert performer but for many years she held a private studio where she shared her talents with students who were willing to make a serious commitment to their musical study. In recognition of her career as a concert pianist and as a supporter of the arts, UK HealthCare recently inaugurated the Teresa Garbulin-ska Annual Premier Concert Series as part of the Lucille Caudill Little Performing Arts in Healthcare Program.

Although Teresa's favorite composers include Bach, Mozart, Debussy and Samuel Barber, she has a special affinity for Chopin. In celebration of the 200th anniversary of Chopin's birth in early March, she was a featured guest of Roger Duvall in a special tribute to Chopin on WEKU-88.9 FM. In addition to her comments on Chopin's work and his importance as a composer, Duvall also featured excerpts from her recording, "Chopin Encores." The complete interview with photos of Teresa (and Lancut Castle) and excerpts from her recorded performances appear on <http://www.weku.fm/chopin.html>.

At the other end of the musical spectrum is Lansdowne resident Bob Stange, whose current band is called "NightCrawler." Born in Michigan, Bob has been active in the Lexington music scene for about 15 years but he says that music has always been part of his life through school, church, radio and TV. "I was an early fan of Elvis Presley, Ricky Nelson and, of course, the Beatles." Bob learned music in junior and senior high school band, playing clarinet and sax. "I have long since and stupidly given up both." He also had some formal guitar lessons but learned primarily by ear.

"I've been playing the guitar and have been in groups for close to 45 years. I've played rock, blues, rhythm and blues, country and folk. I have written a few songs over the years. I was with a band in Michigan called Odyssey. We opened shows for Rare Earth, Tommy James and Alice Cooper. We traveled around the Midwest for a time and went as far as Key West. I also played guitar in my college jazz band. That was a real challenge."

Today Bob plays guitar (both electric and acoustic) and electric bass and sings as a solo act with his band and with his church choir. He plays an occasional solo gig at Azur restaurant, and he says readers can keep up with his band at www.myspace.com/nightcrawlerlntunes. "I like to perform and I love it when a song comes together and connects with the crowd. I also like the fact that with music, you can get better even as you get older. Learning an instrument can be a lifetime pursuit." Regarding this series, he observed, "I look forward to reading about the other musicians in Lansdowne."

In addition to current residents featured in this and previous articles, two former and current Lansdowne residents have made music a vocation and an avocation. Michael McMurray, who grew up listening to classical music at the behest of Sherwood Drive neighbor Jack Llewellyn, plays double bass as a member of the Houston Symphony, where he is also music librarian. Nick Lawrence who currently lives in Lansdowne also plays bass. However, Nick is more likely to be heard performing American roots music and bluegrass than classical compositions. He also hosts "Curtains at 8," a local arts program broadcast on weeknights on WUKY 91.3 FM.

Place an Ad in the LNA Directory

The Lansdowne Neighborhood Association will be printing its 2010 Membership Directory next month. The Directory is used frequently by members throughout the year to obtain phone numbers, addresses, e-mail addresses, and to learn the names of their neighbors. So many eyes are on these pages day after day.

We invite you to consider an ad in the upcoming LNA Membership Directory for your business – an ad that many will see often over the course of a year. Furthermore, the folks who will be seeing your ad are your neighbors who live just a short distance from your place of business. You just may offer a service our Lansdowne residents need! Following is information for placing an ad:

B&W Business Card - $25
B&W ¼ Page - $50
B&W ½ Page - $100
B&W Full Page - $250
Send Camera Copy and Check To:
Sonny Wray, 3289 Bellefonte Drive 40502
By June 20, 2010

Lansdowne Neighborhood Association welcomes your contribution to the Directory. If you have further questions about placing an ad, please contact Sonny Wray at swray@lextheo.edu, 280-1245 or 278-1518.

Green Tips for Early Summer

If you hate storing plastic pots in your garage because you're reluctant to send them to the landfill, check with your local garden center to see if they collect plastic pots for recycling.

Also, if you end up with extra produce in your vegetable garden this year, consider donating your extra fruits and veggies to the Lexington Urban Gleaning Network. Watch our next newsletter issue for information about providing food for the hungry from your garden harvest.

Annual Neighborhood Picnic Coming To You This Fall

Time & Place To Be Announced

Good Food, Good Times and Good Neighbors

KUDOS to Our Neighbors!

Earlier this year Dan Potter won the 2010 United States Gold Association Green Award. Dan, a professor of entomology at UK, was recognized for his research and leadership for environmentally responsible pest management, including golf courses (and the boxwoods in the medians on Lansdowne Drive ☺).

Every five years the University of Kentucky Alumni Association recognizes a select group of outstanding alumni and honors them by inducting them into the Hall of Distinguished Alumni. Among the 20 inductees for 2010 was our own LNA Treasurer, Wimberly Royster. Before retiring from UK, Wimberly served in numerous capacities, including as the first vice president for Research and Graduate Studies, dean of the Graduate School, dean of the College of Arts & Sciences and as special assistant to the President of the University. He also served as director of the UK Advance Science and Technology Commercialization Center and was a professor of mathematics. In addition, he was vice president of the UK Research Foundation from 1973-1990. During his tenure as the university's administrative officer responsible for research and graduate education, external support for research increased six-fold, including the largest single award in UK's history. In 1992, Wimberly joined the Kentucky Science and Technology Corporation as statewide director of the Kentucky Experimental Program to Stimulate Research (EPSCoR) Program. There he helped bring in $40 million dollars in National Science Foundation grants to promote mathematics and science education in rural Appalachia. There have been only 283 people honored since the Hall was established in 1965 to help celebrate the University of Kentucky's Centennial Year.

On April 29, the Lexington Chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners presented Natalie Wilson its highest honor, the 2010 Winners' Circle Award. Many of our neighbors know that Natalie is a partner in the law firm of Gess, Mattingly & Atchison, where she heads the family law section. However, most people don't know that Natalie served as the LNA attorney, incorporating The Lansdowne Neighborhood Association in 1995. As a high school student in Maine, Natalie worked for Senator Margaret Chase Smith and upon graduation from college she worked in the Eisenhower White House as, in her own words, a "general flunky." Upon graduation from UK Law School in 1968, she was one of the few women attorneys practicing law in Kentucky. During her professional career she co-authored with former Justice James E. Keller a book on family law and served as a bar examiner for the Kentucky Bar Association. She has also spent many hours as a community volunteer, serving as past chair of the United Way board, a Girl Scout leader and board member of the Girl Scout Wilderness Road Council and for several years as member of the Lexington-Fayette County Airport Board. In April she and husband, George, celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary!

Here's Your Chance to ... IMPROVE OUR NEIGHBORHOOD!

We need volunteers to WORK on our standing committees. We need people who are willing to roll up their sleeves and do a few hours of work once in awhile. If you have ideas for projects, we want to hear from you, too!

If you're willing, here are the volunteer possibilities and the people to contact:

Archives Committee Continues to Make History!

Three new interviews have been added to our online Oral History. Our interview subjects share Lexington history as well as the history of our neighborhood and our association. Folks whose histories and photos been added since the first of the year include: Martha King, Thelma Henderson and F.D. Kindred. Two more will be coming soon: Foster Ockerman and Calvin Grayson. That will bring to 17 the total number of interviews in our collection.

Thanks to Patti Thornbury and Pat Esrael for conducting the interviews, to Bev Futrell for providing technical support and to Steve Albert for putting the interviews on our website. To access the information, go to <http://lansdownenet.tripod.com>. Select the "History" section; then, the tab labeled "Oral History."

Lansdowne Neighborhood Association Membership

Thanks to the 276 neighbors who have paid their membership dues for 2010 as of May 10! Our goal is 400 households; so, please mail your dues today. A membership form and mailing address is on the back page of this newsletter. Join today if you want to be included in this year's member directory, which goes to print in mid-July.

Thanks also to Sharron Townsend, who has helped us close in on the 300 mark as Membership Chair. Sharron is stepping down from that position due to increased work commitments. Our new Chair is Sonny Wray. If your name is misspelled or there is incorrect information on the list below, please notify Sonny at 278-1518 or swray@lextheo.edu.

of this newsletter!

While you're there, you can look back through an almost complete collection of our neighborhood newsletters. (If you have issues that we're missing, PLEASE LET US KNOW.) You will also find a timeline of major neighborhood events under the tab labeled "Written History."

The Scrapbooking Team has also compiled almost two volumes of old photos, news clippings and other memorabilia. They still need volunteers to help with scrapbooking. If you are willing to spend a few hours helping us get organized, contact Patti Thornbury at 278-5883, pthornb@aol.com.

Questions & Answers ...

Q: Who is responsible for maintaining sidewalks in the neighborhood?

A: Property owners are responsible for the maintenance of the public sidewalk in front of their property. A reimbursement program is available to owner occupied residential properties at a rate of $2.25 per square foot on all sidewalks marked for replacement and that are cited by the Division of Code Enforcement. Inspections of existing sidewalks are handled through Code Enforcement. Call Lexcall 311 for more info.

Q: Who do you call concerning graffiti removal?

A: Call 311 to report graffiti. The LexCall staff will direct the service request for graffiti removal to the appropriate agency based on the location of the graffiti.
